News from the B.L.A.C. Aerodrome Operators Committee

One item disscussed under "any other business" at a recent B.L.A.C. ACC meeting will be of particular interest to F.F.A. members.

It appears that at one recent Air Display last season, no less than three light aircraft flew through the display area while the Red Arrows were flying.

This astonishing fact reveals not only exceptionally bad airmanship (for who can fail to see a formation of nine aircraft flying together?), but also failure by the pilots concerned to read the relevant Notams.

You may well ask how our members, as private owners mainly based at private strips, are supposed to read the necessary Notams, without going to our nearest aerodrome specifically for that purpose? The answer is that any pilot can, for a very small subscription, have Class II Notams sent to his home address. Class II Notams contain a wealth of up to date information about any changes or alterations to information published in the Air Pilot, such as frequency changes, aerodrome serviceability, new nav-aids, etc., etc. They also contain other useful information such as details of Air Displays, details of military activity in areas where it might not be expected etc.

The subscription rate for Class II Notams at the time of writing is £6.00. per annum, and the address from which they may be obtained is:-

C.A.A.,
Greville House,
37 Gratton Road,
CHELTENHAM, Glos.

Tel: Cheltenham (0242) 35151.

In addition, private pilots can also have sent to them, free of charge, Aeronautical Information Circulars. These contain information of all kinds relating to Aviation, including medical, meteorological, technical, and legal information, as well as early warning of any impending change of legislation, equipment requirement, or airspace. AIC's can be obtained from:

Aeronautical Information Service,
Tolcarne Drive,
Pinner,
Middlesex HA5 2DU

Tel: 01 - 866 - 8781 ext. 204

When writing, you should point out that you are a PPL with an aircraft based at a private strip - at the moment, for economy reasons, C.A.A. are being a little hesitant about issuing to all and sundry.
